

Linking words

(source: <http://www.vivquarry.com/wkshts/linkwd.html>)

Adding and	Contrasting	Expressing cause / reason
*and as well as besides Moreover, Furthermore, What is more, In addition, not only .... but also another point is that relative clauses who, where that, which whose, to whom when, what why	*but However, Although despite In spite of Nevertheless, On the contrary, on the one hand on the other hand, whereas while but while In contrast, Neither...nor	because as since This is why because of Due to Owing to For this reason, Expressing effect / result *so so....that such a...that Therefore Thus Consequently, As a result, too...for/to not enough...for/to
Narration		Expressing purpose
First (of all) At first At the beginning In the beginning then next Before After After that afterwards When While during Soon prior to	immediately Once Suddenly As soon as on No sooner....than Hardly...when Finally Eventually At the end In the end At last To begin with, until	to so as to in order that so that for (Non-specific) Expressing opinion I would say that In my opinion, I think (that) I believe (that) Personally Apparently,
Giving examples	Summing up / concluding	Emphasis
for example, for instance, For one thing, this includes such as e.g.. (for example) i.e. (that is)	All in all overall generally In conclusion, on the whole in the main To sum up,	especially particularly Naturally, exactly because above all Whatever Whenever too / enough The more ....

* Avoid starting a sentence with these words.

The linking words beginning with a capital letter often start a sentence, for those without, position in a sentence is optional.

Additional information with examples: <http://www.english-at-home.com/grammar/linking-words/>

Exercises: Exercises: <http://www2.ulg.ac.be/facphl/uer/d-german/remed/link.htm>